The wedding took place at the home of the bride, which was beautifully decorated with palms. Among the two hundred and more callers were four Spanish War Veterans, one of whom sang a solo as an expression of their well wishes to the ladies for a happy and prosperous year.

AFTER EIGHTEEN YEARS' SEPARATION.

Mrs. H. J. Herndon, of 731 Thirty-first street northwest, was joyously surprised to answer her doorbell a few days ago and find her sister and niece awaiting admission. She had not seen them for eighteen years. The sister was Mrs. Payton, from Atlanta, Ga. It was a happy and affecting meeting. Mrs. Herndon proceeded to make things jolly by giving quite a number of at-homes and inviting her friends to meet the long-separated sister. Miss Payton is the original type of the Southern beauty, and has gained much favor already. Mrs. Payton will spend the winter here, and if satisfied will remain in Washington to be near Mrs. Herndon in the future. When one of The Bee's reporters called New Year's Day, little Miss Payton was having the time of her life, surrounded by lots of the best Washington boys, chatting merrily and entertaining all. The parlor was dotted with palms and flowers and American flags.

SUNDAY SERVICES.

Elder E. J. Robinson has decided to open Sunday services every Sunday afternoon at his residence, Fifth and D streets northeast, at three o'clock. Mrs. Robinson, his wife, has been a great worker. It will be remembered that Elder Robinson was one of the founders of Mount Carmel Church, under the late H. V. Plummer. There are no town persons better suited for this work than these two well-known Christian workers. These services, no doubt will be well attended.

DR. CHARLES CARROLL STEWART DEAD.

An escort of two hundred members of the Morning Star Lodge of Elks, with a band of music. On the arrival at the church the Order of Elks formed an arch through which the remains were conveyed, and the mourners and friends of the deceased. The rector of St. Mary's Church took for his text: "Night cometh, and no man can see to work." It was a very impressive address. He said in part that no eulogy, sermon or speech would be of any benefit to the deceased, but that his remarks were a lesson directed to the living. He spoke of one duty which in health, what he should not neglect to do for himself. At the conclusion of the sermon the altar girls sang very sweetly several selections. After which the exercises were turned over to the Elks, who conducted the ceremonies in conformity with those of the organization. These exercises were very impressive.

Mr. John T. Rhines, secretary of the Elks, read a set of preambles and resolutions, as follows:

Whereas, the Great Disposer of Events, Jesus Christ, our Elder Brother, has been pleased to call from these mortal shores to those of life everlasting our late and worthy brother, H. C. Stewart; and

Whereas, the intimate relations long held by the deceased with the members of this lodge render it proper that we place on record our appreciation of his services as an Elk as his merits as a man; therefore, be it

Resolved, That we deplore the death of our beloved brother, Dr. C. C. Stewart, with the deepest feelings of regret, softened only by the blessed thought of life beyond the grave; for in his death, Morning Star Lodge loses not only a member, not only its medical examiner, but in every sense of the word, a brother—a brother charitable in his walks, just in his dealings, brotherly to his humblest brother as well as to the most exalted, and ever faithful in the discharge of his duties. His amiable disposition, his ceaseless activities in the interest of our lodge, have endeared him to the heart of each member.

Resolved, That we tender to his afflicted widow and relatives our sincere condolence and our earnest sympathy in their affliction at the loss of one who was a good citizen, a devoted Elk, and an upright man.

Resolved, That the members of this lodge will attend our deceased brother to the grave in a body; that our altar and hall of meeting be draped in black, the emblem of mourning, for thirty days.

Resolved, That a copy of the foregoing resolutions, signed by the Exalted Ruler, and certified to by the secretary, be transmitted to the widow and relatives of the deceased.

These resolutions were adopted by the Morning Star Lodge, Sunday, January 5th, 1908.

J. L. James, Exalted Ruler.
John T. Rhines, Secretary.

The remains were conveyed to Harmony Cemetery, where they were placed in the vault.

FUNERAL OF JOHN CRAIG.

On Thursday last the remains of the late John Craig were buried from the residence of his next friend, Eugene Brooks, 1437 Pierce Place northwest. Deceased was a native and resident of this District and to the time of his demise was a trusted employee of the United States Supreme Court. The Rev. Mr. Welch, pastor of the Metropolitan A. M. E. Church, conducted the funeral services over the deceased (by request of his relatives), assisted by the Rev. William V. Tunnell, of Howard University.

The Rev. Mr. Welch during the course of his remarks spoke substantially as follows: That, though he was a stranger, comparatively, in the city of Washington, nevertheless he readily and most willingly testified to the reputable standing of the deceased in this community as a Christian man and gentleman; that, from all points came to him expressions of the highest respect and deepest regret at the death of Mr. Craig. The Rev. Mr. Tunnell also paid a glowing tribute to the memory of the deceased.

Deceased to the time of his death was active in both Church and social organizations. Though unconnected with any church, his sympathies and activities seemed to have been given in a marked degree toward furthering the interests of St. Luke's Protestant Episcopal Church. He occasionally attended services there and was a most generous and liberal contributor to the burdens of the parish. He was a member of the Men's Club of the parish, the Bannaker Relief, the Frederick Douglass, and the Crispus Attucks Associations, all of which were represented at the funeral by liberal delegations.

A large number of distinguished friends attended the funeral, including Dr. Thomas J. Brown, rector of St. Luke's Church; the Hon. Chief Justice Fuller and the Hon. Oliver Wendell Holmes, of the United States Supreme Court and others.

Deceased was confined to his resi-

HER-TRU-LINE

The proper care of the hair is a duty every man and woman owes to themselves and friends as well. Nature makes an effort to preserve the hair, but by not giving the hair and scalp the proper attention man works against the effort of Nature by his carelessness and negligence.

You should help Nature in the direction in which she makes an effort to work, and the greatest help possible is by using "Her-Tru-Line."

The beauty of a fine suit of hair is very valuable to both man and woman.

"Her-Tru-Line" is the result of years of intelligent study and experiment and is a scientific preparation.

The attractiveness of a luxurious growth of beautiful hair is invaluable to man and woman alike.

"Her-Tru-Line" stimulates the growth of the hair, it takes out the curl and leaves the scalp in a clean and healthy condition.

"Her-Tru-Line" leaves the hair soft and glossy and easily dressed.

"Her-Tru-Line" cures dandruff, ringworm and scalp tetter.

"Her-Tru-Line" is delightful as a dressing for the hair, being perfectly harmless. Only the purest materials are used in its manufacture.

"Her-Tru-Line" leaves a nice, comfortable feeling in the scalp. It is a true luxury and a valuable addition to toilet accessories.

One jar of "Her-Tru-Line" will convince anyone that it will do all we claim for it.

Yours respectfully

A YOUNG NEGRO'S SUCCESS.

Columbus, Ohio.—The success of Earl T. Ward, the transfer and storage man of this city has been little short of a miracle. Starting only a few short years ago, with nothing save grit, industry and sobriety for capital he is now the sole proprietor of one of the largest transfer and storage companies in the State of Ohio. His new storage house, large and commodious, is packed to the roof with stored goods, and he will be forced, by the expansion of his trade, to shortly erect another storage house. Last week Mr. Ward accomplished a coup that brought him in possession of a handsome residence in the aristocratic section of the city. There was a beautiful residence for sale, but the neighbors did not care to have a Negro buy in their midst, so attempted to prevent its sale to a Negro, but while they were considering "ways and means" of preventing it, Mr. Ward, with his characteristic hustle and business foresight, stepped in, and by paying spot cash, closed the deal for the property, and this handsome residence is now added to Mr. Ward's rapidly increasing chain of possessions.

Mr. Ward is still a bachelor, and a young one at that, for he is not yet thirty years of age. This being leap year, he makes a shining mark for some of the bewitching damsels who would like for a husband a man who does things, and a man who is rapidly accumulating his full share of this world's goods.

ITEMS ON THE WING.

Mrs. Bull Isable Warrell, the department president of the Women's Relief Corps, G. A. R., Department of the Potomac, received the colored members of the G. A. R. very warmly and patriotically. Mrs. Crummell was the only colored lady member in the receiving line. Over seventy-five comrades were present of Summer Post, under Post Commander R. D. Goodman.

The total number of arrests made during the year in the District of Columbia was 34,407, out of which 3,819 were drunks; of this number 918 were colored.

The number of lynchings during the year were 63, of which 60 were colored. The retribution of God has followed the white brother to the number of 10,782 suicides for 1907.

Representative McKinley gave a party at his home at Champagne on the 4th interest of Speaker Cannon's candidacy for president. (Uncle Joe ain't in it.)

Ill. J. W. Freeman, thirty-third degree, was taken sick last week at the office. He was removed to his home.

Ill. Daniel H. Williams, oldest colored member of the Fire Department of the District of Columbia, was presented upon his retirement from the service with a fine ebony, gold-headed cane by the members of Truck B for his honesty, and integrity. The presentation was made by Capt. P. D. Martin, in charge of Truck B.

Mr. Simmons, father of Sir Knight Simmons, of Simon's Commandery, still keeps sick at his home on F street southwest.
